

A Trip to Palestine and Syria

In 1913, same year this nuanced colorful account of Middle East was published, a group of Arab students living in Paris proposed an international meeting about Syria Lebanon to discuss decay of Otto Empire, part European powers were playing in region, Zionist settlements in Palestine, signs of growing crisis in region. French Ministry of Foreign Affairs agreed to be sponsor. congress was held June 18-23 re were delegates representing all major faiths, as well as a spectrum of political positions, a hopeful discussion looked to future. Of course World War I began in July 1914 Arab Congress of 1913 was not replicable. Nor of course were travels of John Hackenbroch in this volume. A hundred years have passed problems remain.
